CHICK MANAGEMENT TIPS

Follow these chick management tips to keep your chicks healthy and growing.

Tips to keep them healthy

- Dip young chick's beak in water upon arrival
- Offer free choice grit #1 to aid in digestion
- Supply 20-22 hours of light for the first 10 days
- Begin with heat at 95 degrees Fahrenheit
- Decrease temperature 5 degrees per week until reaching 70 degrees
- Keep their litter dry and clean
- Sanitize equipment frequently for chicks during the first few weeks to aid in disease control

Tips to get them growing

- Keep segregated from laying flock
- Limit light to 12 hours if possible
- See tips on chick spacing below
- If using nipple waterers for growing chicks, locate them so chicks can reach them without having to look straight up

Tips for space, water and feeder areas

- Space requirement for chicks: 0.9 sq ft./bird
- Water requirement: one 1 gallon water fountain per 50 birds
- Feeder area requirements are as follows:
 - Hatch to 3 weeks: 1 inch/bird
 - 3-6 weeks: 2 inches/bird
 - Over 6 weeks: 3 inches/bird
